NCBW Applauds Nomination of Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson

ATLANTA, GA, 2022 - The National Coalition of 100 Black Women, Inc., (NCBW) joins in the thousands of witnesses, Black women ancestors, who are also applauding this moment, in support of the nomination of Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson as Supreme Court Justice. Ketanji Brown Jackson is an American attorney, and jurist serving as a federal judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

President Joe Biden has pledged to nominate a Black woman to the Supreme Court seat being vacated by Justice Stephen Breyer, who is retiring from the court after nearly 28 years. If confirmed by the Senate, Biden's nominee would become the first Black woman ever to serve on the nation's highest court. The lack of racial and gender diversity on the bench is often most noticeable when it comes to the Supreme Court, given the relatively small number of justices who have served, compared to the rest of the court system and their much higher public profile. Judge Ketanji Brown Jackson was raised in Miami and went on to study government at Harvard University. She then attended Harvard Law School, where she served as the supervising editor of the Harvard Law Review.

Judge Jackson's family exemplifies a true American success story, thanks to hard work and determination. Her parents attended segregated schools and experienced the Jim Crow South as kids, but through hard work, they graduated from college and became public school teachers. Eventually, her father went on to earn a law degree. And now their daughter can become the first Black woman to serve on the Supreme Court.

Judge Jackson comes from a family of police officers and worked as a public defender. She has also served on the bipartisan US Sentencing Commission and as judge on the District Court and D.C. Circuit Court of Appeal. She would be the first public defender to serve on the Supreme Court.

Judge Jackson clerked for Justice Breyer, where she learned the great rigor through which Justice Breyer approached the work and his willingness to work with colleagues of different viewpoints. She will bring that experience and the same approach to bear on the Supreme Court.

Generational Blessings

TODAY'S SCRIPTURE

(Proverbs 13:22, NIV)

A good person leaves an inheritance for their children's children...

TODAY'S WORD

GOD's dream for you is that HIS blessings will be so amazing and abundant on your life that you have to pass them down to your children. You can't contain it all. HE says that generational blessings are coming that you won't have room enough to receive. Increase that goes to your children, your grandchildren, your great grandchildren. Property, businesses, and contacts that continue blessing people after you're gone.

You need to get rid of a barely-get-by mentality. Quit telling yourself all the reasons why it's not going to happen, how you've had too many bad breaks, how your obstacles are too big, how your dream seems impossible. That is not your destiny. Start expecting GOD's favor, start believing that new levels are coming, start talking like it's going to happen. The blessing on your life is going to cause you to lend and not borrow, to have more than enough. You're going to say as David said, "My cup runs over." There are some running-over blessings in your future. Blessings that you cannot contain.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

FATHER, thank YOU that YOUR blessing on my life is bringing me into overflow. Thank YOU for generational blessings, that YOU're opening doors that I can't open, putting me at the right place, bringing the right people, taking me where I could not go on my own. I declare that I am blessed. In JESUS' Name, Amen.
