Pigeon Forge Ice Cream Shop Turned Away Family Who Wouldn't Remove Their Masks

'I don't have words right now': An ice cream shop reportedly turned away a disabled customer and her son when they refused to take off their masks. The ice cream shop has reportedly made anti-masking posts in the past.

Nationwide — Sharing their competitive fire and strategies for success, professional athletes Earvin “Magic” Johnson and Mike Tyson have been confirmed as keynote speakers for the upcoming 4th annual Recession Proof Convention. Slated for May 27-28 at The Mirage in Las Vegas, this wealth strategy celebration from “Recession Proof” founder Marcus Barney will welcome an all-star line-up of attendees and speakers.

Johnson led the L.A. Lakers to five NBA championships before later serving as the team's President of Basketball Operations. After contracting HIV (and later beating the virus), Johnson launched the Magic Johnson Foundation to help fight against HIV and AIDS and remains a well-known and well-loved broadcaster in addition to being a worldwide successful business mogul.

A former professional boxer, Tyson is known as one of the greatest heavyweight boxers of all time. He holds the record as the youngest boxer to win the WBC, WBA, and IBF heavyweight titles at just 20 years old. His nicknames include “Iron Mike,” “Kid Dynamite” and “The Baddest Man on the Planet.”

“We couldn't ask for more fascinating speakers at this year's Recession Proof Convention.

We know they will both bring fire and wisdom, personality and insight to their conversations on personal growth and wealth strategy,” Barney said. “And that's not all! Our speaker line-up this year is truly better than ever and our members will learn a lot and have a great time while doing so.” The multi-million-dollar Recession Proof program comprises financial literacy, personal and business funding, credit to cash strategies, coaching, and more. Recession Proof reported a 2021 year-end payroll of $2.5 million and sales commissions of $1 million to his all-Black team of entrepreneurs. Further, Barney has mentored more than 10,000 others on building wealth, getting out from the crushing load of debt, and how to become successful entrepreneurs.

Formerly Incarcerated Mom Earns Master's Degree, Her 3rd Degree in 5 Years

Nationwide — Margaret Hall, a 47-year-old mother from Tempe, Arizona, who previously spent time in prison, has graduated summa cum laude with a master's degree from Arizona State University. It is the third degree that she has earned within just 5 years since being released.

Nearly 6 years ago, Margaret was convicted of a class C felony and was sentenced to 6 months in prison. After serving her sentence, Hall decided to turn her life around, especially for her 6 children.

“Strive for bigger dreams and bigger goals. I didn't want my children to think that was going to be the last chapter of my story,” Margaret told 12News. She wanted to go back to school but she said it was not easy at first because she had to deal with the stigma of being an ex-felon as well as her own self-doubt. Determined to change her life, she enrolled at Glendale Community College before transferring to ASU.

Since then, she studied hard without breaks. She even earned scholarships including a grant from the Jeannette Rankin Foundation awards scholarships and grants to women age 35 and older pursuing a college education.

Most recently, Margaret earned her 3rd degree, a master's degree in Interdisciplinary Studies and Prelaw from ASU. Moving forward, she plans to start a grant writing business for non-profit organizations with the goal to help others achieve. “It's not where you start, but it's where you end up,” Hall said.
